

“Believer” / M. Dukurs

they will screw you over if you let them if you're not a believer got to fight a fever

they can do that more than a million times i'll still be near, still standing here cause i ain't got no fear and it all hit me at once i have to punch back we should defend ourselves it will be self-defence *the lion slept for a while but now he's awake

he's coming after you the one who woke him up*

i'm a believer gotta fight a fever
cause i'm not a leaver

they will make you feel like you just don't like you don't fit in in their little world

but you have nothing to prove to anyone be true to yourself
without compromise
